Dear Councillor,

I am writing to you as the newly elected Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) for our area. It is with great enthusiasm and a deep sense of responsibility that I step into this role, entrusted with the task of ensuring the safety and security of our community.

First and foremost, I want to express my sincere appreciation for the vital work that you and your organisation do in our community. Your dedication to supporting vulnerable populations, preventing crime, and fostering collaboration is essential to our collective efforts in building a safer society.

As I embark on this new journey, I am committed to upholding the core responsibilities of a PCC, including issuing a comprehensive police and crime plan that is reflective of our local priorities. I recognise the importance of collaboration and partnership in achieving our goals, and I am eager to work closely with you and other key stakeholders to address the unique challenges facing Avon and Somerset.

I firmly believe that by working together, we can make meaningful progress in enhancing public safety. Your insights, expertise, and input will be invaluable as we develop strategies and initiatives to address emerging issues and meet the evolving needs of our community.

I am committed to transparency, accountability, and open communication throughout my tenure as PCC. Please feel free to reach out to me and my office with any questions, concerns, or suggestions you may have.

I look forward to the opportunity to collaborate with you in the days, months, and years ahead.

Warm regards,

Clare Moody
Police and Crime Commissioner for Avon and Somerset
